

WHERE: Zion Lutheran
School & Cemetery
6513 W. C.R. 300 S.
New Palestine, IN
(southeast of Indianapolis)

WHEN: Friday, April 17
1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

WHO: Educators, grades 4-12

WHAT: Names, dates, epitaphs and iconography reveal much about our ancestors, their lives, and the places they lived. This workshop will introduce participants to Project Learning Tree's "Places We Live" curriculum supplement, and will adapt some activities to incorporate cemetery study. There will be both indoor and outdoor activities, so come prepared for the weather. Project Learning Tree is correlated to state academic standards, and both Certification Renewal Units and Professional Growth Units can be earned by attending this workshop.

WORKSHOP PRESENTERS:

Sam Carman, Education Director, IDNR-Division of Forestry
Sheila Riley, Director of Collections, Children's Museum of Indianapolis

COST: $6 per person

DIRECTIONS: From U.S. 40 or U.S. 52, take either County Road 700 W or C.R. 600 W to County Road 300 S. The school is located between these two county roads.

REGISTRATION: Call 317-549-0354 or email ljames-reim@dnr.in.gov and specify you want to register for the April 17 PLT workshop at Zion Lutheran School. Space is limited and expected to fill quickly, so early registration is strongly encouraged. Deadline for pre-paid registration is April 13.
